1. Nature of Leveraged Products

1.1. Our products are complex instruments and come with a high risk of losing money rapidly due to leverage. These products are not suitable for all investors. You should consider whether you understand how these products work and whether you can afford to take the high risk of losing your money. Seek independent advice if necessary.

1.2. Leveraged products are traded off-exchange or Over the Counter ('OTC'); this means PrimeXBT is at all times the counterparty to Client trades and any trades entered into with PrimeXBT can therefore only be closed with PrimeXBT. Your ability to open and/or close trades is dependent on the availability of our service to your Jurisdiction.

1.3. You understand that you are not entitled to the physical delivery of the underlying instrument of the leveraged product you are trading, and you have no rights in the underlying instrument.

2. Market Risks

2.1. PrimeXBT enables you to use leverage to open a trade by depositing a fraction of the total trade value; this means that a relatively small market movement may lead to a proportionately much larger movement in the value of your trade.

2.2. Markets may fluctuate rapidly to reflect events that are outside the control of the Company and/or your control; as a result, prices will become volatile. This can be caused, for example, by unexpected economic events or market announcements, within or outside trading hours. In addition, if prices move against you, this will have a direct and real-time impact on your trades, which may automatically stop out.

2.3. Consequently, PrimeXBT may be unable to execute your instructions at the requested price. Therefore, even 'stop-loss orders', whereby your trade will be executed only when the instrument you want to buy or sell reaches a particular price

(the stop price), cannot guarantee the limit of loss. 'Stop-loss orders' are not guaranteed to be filled at the price you state. Once the 'stop-loss orders' have been triggered, it turns into a market order, which is filled at the best possible price. This price may be lower than the price specified by the 'stop-loss orders'.

2.4. Past performance, simulation or prediction does not constitute an indication of future results. You should note that the value of your investment can decrease or increase as the market price of the underlying asset may fluctuate downwards or upwards

2.5. Some of the instruments may not become immediately liquid as a result of reduced demand for the underlying instrument and Client may not be able to obtain the information on the value of these or the extent of the associated risks.

3. Margin & Liquidation Risks

3.1. You should be aware of the implications of leveraged products trading and in particular the specific margin requirements which are applied thereto. You shall be required to deposit funds ("margin") in your trading account in order to open a leveraged position and the funds deposited should reflect the specific margin required.

3.2. You shall be able to see the margin requirements and fees for each individual instrument before you begin trading. Such information shall be available within the Fees Section on the PrimeXBT Website. Margin requirements will depend on the underlying asset, level of leverage applied, and the value of position to be established.

3.3. The Company has no obligation to inform you about the critical margin utilization levels. It shall be your sole responsibility to maintain sufficient margin on your account at all times in order to avoid stop-out.
